

KANSAS LEGISLATIVE INSIGHTS NEWSLETTER | FEBRUARY 17, 2023

WEEK SIX – TURNAROUND DEADLINES

Friday morning, committees continued working on bills before the turnaround day next week. Both the House Appropriations and Senate Ways and Means Committees continued grinding through various agency budgets. Week six saw non-exempt committees finishing hearings and taking final action on bills ahead of next Tuesday's deadline to complete their work. This week's House bill introductions included Medicaid expansion and medical marijuana. There continues to be a steady stream of tax cut proposals. Among the latest is HB 2419, establishing a $500 tax credit for expenses incurred for the care of cats and dogs for up to three animals.

This week, both chambers went on General Orders debating less controversial measures. The House quickly approved a bill banning TikTok from state-owned devices and networks. The exception was the two-hour debate on the Senate floor over gun safety education programs. SB 116 would create firearm safety education programs conducted in public school districts. The bill would allow local school boards to provide firearm safety education programs. The State Board of Education would be directed to establish curriculum guidelines for a standardized firearm safety education program, which would be required to include accident prevention. The bill specifically directs the State Board to use the National Rifle Association's gun safety program called "Eddie Eagle." Opponents claimed the NRA was growing a new crop of gun buyers. The bill applies to school districts choosing to offer such courses for their students. The bill passed 30-8.

BUSY WEEK FOR TAX COMMITTEES

Monday, the Senate Tax Committee concluded three days of hearings on SB 128, allowing a refundable income tax credit for students enrolled in kindergarten or grades 1 through 12 in an accredited nonpublic school or a non-accredited private or elementary school registered with the Department of Education. The tax credit would be equal to the amount of the Base Aid for Student Excellence (BASE) in the school finance formula in effect on Jan. 1 of the tax year for each dependent child.

Tuesday, the House Tax Committee heard testimony on implementing a 5% flat tax in Kansas. The Kansas Chamber argued a flat tax would make Kansas more competitive and encourage population growth. Opponents argued it is unfair and benefits the wealthy. The annual estimated loss of state revenue is $1.5 billion annually.

Wednesday, the House Tax Committee approved a bill extending $10 million in tax credits for donations to pregnancy crisis centers discouraging abortion. The bill provides a 70% tax credit for donations. The committee vote was 12-8. The Senate Assessment and Taxation Committee approved SB 96 with the Senate version on Thursday.

Thursday, the House Tax Committee approved increasing the threshold for taxable Social Security benefits from $75,000 to $125,000 for 2023, $175,000 in 2024, and $275,000 for 2025. Changing the Social Security threshold will cost about $50 million in the next fiscal year and lost state revenue would increase to $124 million by year four. The committee vote was 12-8.

COMMITTEES

Monday, the House Legislative Modernization Committee approved HB 2314, banning TikTok on state-owned devices and networks. The legislation codifies Gov. Laura Kelly's Executive Order banning TikTok. The bill would define "social media platform of concern" to mean an application or website that is owned or controlled by TikTok or any of its subsidiaries or successor companies or companies directly or indirectly controlled by TikTok. The prohibition would not apply to state agency employees accessing social media platforms of concern for law enforcement activities or cybersecurity investigations. Thursday, the bill passed the House 109-12.

Tuesday, the House Judiciary Committee amended and approved HB 2033 to include all healthcare clinics with the protections for healthcare workers.

Tuesday, the Senate Public Health and Welfare Committee heard testimony on SB 233, concerning gender identity medical care. SB 233 would create a civil cause of action against a physician who performs childhood gender reassignment service and would provide for licensure revocation. The hearing generated considerable testimony.

Wednesday, the Committee heard SB 5, related to the Kansas Telemedicine Act. The Act proposes, among other things, to prohibit prescriptions via telemedicine which are intended to induce an abortion. The Senate Public Health and Welfare Committee also heard SB 6, concerning infectious or contagious diseases. SB 6, if it becomes law, would repeal the authority of the Kansas Secretary of Health and Environment to order individuals to isolate or quarantine and subject violators to associated penalties. The bill eliminates the requirements for schools and individual persons to report certain contagious diseases.

Thursday, the House Federal and State Affairs Committee voted 19-3 to advance HB 2269, increasing the age to use tobacco products to 21.

The House Elections Committee had a heated hearing on HB 2391, limiting the powers of the Governmental Ethics Commission and allowing limitless campaign contributions. Political action committees would no longer need to register. The Governmental Ethics Commission Executive Director, Mark Skoglund, strongly objected to the bill and stated it was designed to undermine ongoing investigations.

Thursday, the House Water Committee amended and passed HB 2279, designed to push Groundwater Management Districts in western Kansas to address water conservation in the disappearing Ogallala Aquifer. HB 2302, funding water projects, was also approved by the committee.
