

KANSAS LEGISLATIVE INSIGHTS NEWSLETTER | SEPTEMBER 10, 2019

The Secretary of State's Office has begun to process candidate filings for the 2020 primary election. As of September 9, 26 Kansas House incumbents have filed for re-election while 10 Kansas Senators are seeking re-election. Despite numerous announcements, none of the major candidates for the U.S. Senate seat being vacated by U.S. Sen. Pat Roberts have actually filed for the 2020 primary election. Only Topeka Republican Gabriel Robles and Wichita Democrat Robert Tillman have actually filed for the U.S. Senate. There are no formal filings yet for the U.S. House of Representatives.

After the first two months of the fiscal year, the Kansas tax revenue has narrowly exceeded the estimates for each month. In August, Kansas individual income tax receipts were $6.2 million more than the estimate. The August sales tax revenue was $7 million, or 3.6%, above the estimate. The corporate income tax revenue was $5.3 million, or 44%, below the estimate. On August 9, the Kansas Lottery announced it transferred around $173 million in FY 2019 to the state budget. Lottery games produced $75 million and nearly $99 million was generated by state-owned and -operated casinos.

Interim committees are starting to meet and will continue throughout the fall. In August, Aetna CEO Randy Hyun addressed the Bob Bethell Joint Committee on Home and Community Based Services. He apologized for failing to meet state requirements for managing KanCare for its subscribers and acknowledged complaints from health providers. The next meeting will be in November, when Aetna will respond to concerns raised by the Kansas Department of Health and Environment and by legislators. On September 12, the Special Committee on Financial Institutions and Insurance will be studying healthcare benefits with a focus on the State Employee Health Plan and presentations on cost containment strategies.

The highly anticipated first meeting of the Special Committee on Judiciary is tentatively set for early October. In addition to reviewing the judicial selection process, the Special Committee on Judiciary is charged with reviewing the impact of recent Supreme Court decisions on the citizens of Kansas. This is a clear reference to the Supreme Court decisions on abortion and the non-economic damages cap. How the 2020 Legislature might address the Kansas Supreme Court decision on non-economic damages has generated informal discussions on legislative options and potential constitutional amendments.
