

THREE NEW ATTORNEYS JOIN FOULSTON'S WICHITA OFFICE

October 4, 2022

Associate attorneys Ashley McCall, Madison Moore, and Paul Renyer have joined law firm Foulston Siefkin LLP and will practice in the firm's Wichita office.

McCall, a cum laude graduate of Washburn University School of Law, becomes a member of Foulston's litigation practice group. At Washburn Law, McCall served as articles editor and staff writer for the Washburn Law Journal and received both the Dean's Academic Excellence Scholarship and a CALI Award for two classes. McCall earned her undergraduate Bachelor of Science degree cum laude at Kansas State University in philosophy/pre-law. She was a summer associate at Foulston for two years during law school.

Moore, also a two-time Foulston summer associate, joins Foulston's transactional and business law practice group. She earned her Juris Doctor from the University of Kansas School of Law, where she served as an articles editor and staff editor on the Kansas Law Review and as a teaching assistant for the the Lawyering Skills I and II legal research and writing classes. She received a CALI Award for six classes and the Hershberger, Patterson, Jones & Roth Energy Law Award while in law school. Moore is a graduate of Kansas State University, where she earned a Bachelor of Music in vocal performance summa cum laude.

Renyer took a rugged detour before joining Foulston's business law practice group. After graduating from the College of the Ozarks with a Bachelor of Arts cum laude in English, Renyer was commissioned as an infantry officer in the U.S. Army, where he completed both Ranger and Airborne training before taking on the role of platoon leader for two scout platoons in the 101st Airborne Division. Renyer then attended the University of Kansas School of Law and School of Business, graduating with Juris Doctor and Master of Business Administration degrees. At KU Law, Renyer graduated Order of the Coif, served as a staff editor for the Kansas Journal of Law and Public Policy, and was awarded the Robert E. Edmonds Prize in Corporation and Securities Law. He completed two summer associateships at Foulston.
