

ADMINISTRATIVE/ REGULATORY

OVERVIEW

Headquartered in our Topeka office, the administrative and regulatory team is well-situated to handle matters before the various agencies located in the state capital. Foulston Siefkin lawyers bring to the table the knowledge, experience, and credibility necessary to help clients successfully resolve licensing issues, regulatory compliance disputes, and other problems arising from governmental regulations and procedures.

Administrative and regulatory team members represent oil and gas operators, electric and gas utilities, and telecommunication companies, emphasizing their practice on rate cases, regulatory permitting and compliance, and other proceedings before the Kansas Corporation Commission. Our lawyers also practice before other administrative agencies and represent clients seeking judicial review of administrative decisions.
