

GOVERNMENT INVESTIGATIONS & WHITE COLLAR CRIME

OVERVIEW

We represent clients in federal criminal defense and federal and state civil defense, including actions brought by the United States Attorney, the United States Department of Justice, the State Attorney General, and local district attorneys. Where possible, we negotiate pre-trial resolutions of charges filed by agencies such as the SEC and FDA and if necessary aggressively defend clients in litigation involved with Federal and State investigations involving the False Claims Act, Alien Tort Claims Act, The USA Patriot Act, wire and mail fraud, theft of trade secrets, and private securities class action suits. We routinely represent the aerospace, health care, oil and gas, financial, higher education, government entities and public officials, and other industries in defending against investigations and prosecutions by government agencies and attorneys, such as the Department of Justice (DOJ) (both Washington, D.C. and the U.S. Attorney); the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI); various Offices of Inspector General (OIG); Defense Contract Administration Services (DCAS) and Defense Criminal Investigative Service (DCIS); the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA); the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA); and the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) (Special Agents).

Companies must also dedicate resources up front for compliance programs that will prevent problems from occurring. The Foulston Siefkin team can assess risks associated with investigations and provide counsel in order to create programs to prevent and detect internal misconduct that puts the company at risk for criminal prosecution. An effective compliance program to prevent as well as detect risky conduct may include senior-level involvement, specific standards and procedures, consistent enforcement, methods of reporting violations without fear of retribution, and modifications when violations occur.
