

HEALTHCARE

OVERVIEW

Foulston Siefkin offers healthcare providers a high level of expertise and service. The members of our healthcare practice group are prepared to guide your organization through the tangle of legal requirements associated with an increasingly complex maze of federal and state laws and regulations. Our attorneys have been recognized by national organizations as among the leading healthcare lawyers in the United States.

We have significant experience representing hospitals, ambulatory surgery centers, physician groups, management companies, skilled nursing facilities, behavioral health providers, recovery care centers, home health agencies, durable medical and orthotics suppliers, third-party billing companies, physicians, nurses, and numerous medical groups throughout the regional and nationally. Many of these providers operate multiple facilities across multiple states.

AREAS OF REPRESENTATION

The healthcare industry is one of the most regulated sectors of our economy. Hospitals, physician groups, and other healthcare providers must adhere to laws, regulations, and business practices unique to this industry. Foulston Siefkin attorneys work with healthcare providers on a daily basis in these areas of representation:

- Corporate compliance
- Fraud and abuse (Anti-Kickback Statute)
- Stark Law
- Employment contracts
