

REAL ESTATE

OVERVIEW

In-house counsel and other clients with Kansas real estate interests choosing Foulston Siefkin experience the advantage of our real estate lawyers' unique Kansas-specific capabilities, active involvement in Kansas business communities, local real estate industries, and contributions to and interpretations of Kansas law and policy. Our 26 lawyers supporting real estate deliver a broad network of contacts, deep insight into local customs, and knowledge of local deals and news relevant to client decisions about Kansas property. Foulston's size, capabilities, and Midwest business commonalities make our real estate team a strategic choice for clients seeking counsel on real estate holdings within and beyond Kansas' borders. Our earned trust and reputation have opened doors to new opportunities to serve clients nationwide.

Foulston real estate attorneys understand both the multidisciplinary and local business nature of real estate transactions. We regularly represent clients in acquisitions and dispositions, financing, development, land use, leasing, restructuring, and environmental matters in Kansas, Missouri, and across the United States. Our real estate attorneys advise and assist capital investors, developers, owners, lenders and other participants in a broad range of industries, including: agribusiness, construction, energy, health and long-term care, retail, housing, education, and hotels & hospitality.

Our philosophy of superior client service and our recognized experience earned our real estate practice and our attorneys high marks for "outstanding" work from publications including Best Lawyers of America, Missouri/Kansas SuperLawyers, and Chambers USA. Our real estate attorneys include members of the American College of Real Estate Lawyers and the American College of Environmental Lawyers.
